Crossing Lines: Tools for Teaching Tough Topics

Creating Safe Spaces for Exploring and Teaching the Holocaust and Social Justice in Today's Classrooms

Northern California

June 15-20, 2020

For educators – Grades 5 through university – across disciplines

This one-week seminar will provide teachers with the content background to create safe spaces for exploring sensitive topics, such as bullying, exclusion, and state-sanctioned forced removal and genocide. Through the lens of the Holocaust, Japanese American incarceration, the “Secret War in Laos,” and the genocide in Rwanda, participants will examine the power of “upstanders” to shape the future of their communities and the world.

- Join like-minded colleagues to explore strategies for promoting resilience and social justice utilizing powerful primary and secondary sources
- Work with Holocaust survivors and a 2nd Generation panel, Secret War witnesses, & Japanese American internees
- Collaborate on Common Core-aligned lessons and activities
- Explore technology tools for taking student writing and voices beyond the walls of the classroom
