

The Olga Lengyel Institute for Holocaust Studies and Human Rights

Reclaiming Our Humanity: Lessons of the Holocaust

An Interdisciplinary Inquiry into Teaching the Holocaust and Civil Rights

June 12 – 15, 2019

Jackson, Mississippi

Beth Israel Holocaust Memorial

Learning Experiences include:

- Inquiry into the Nuremberg Laws and Jim Crow laws
- Holocaust Survivor Testimony
- Visit to Beth Israel Synagogue
- Visit to Mississippi Civil Rights Museum
- And more...

Contact:

tracei.writtenow.willis@gmail.com
historytec@gmail.com

The TOLI-sponsored four-day seminar in Jackson, Mississippi will focus on the exclusionary policies of Nazi Germany and the Jim Crow laws operating during the same time period in the United States.

By exploring the seminar's overarching themes of humanization and dehumanization, teachers will be encouraged to make the kinds of connections they will later invite their students to make. Making these connections in the past can help students better understand the present and the challenges they face when working for a just and humane society.

Sponsored by TOLI, this seminar is FREE for educators.

Participants receive:

- $50 stipends
- Most meals and selected books
- CEUs
- Membership in the TOLI network

Graduates can apply for:

TOLI $1,000 mini grant

Applications are accepted on a rolling basis and space is limited.

Apply Now!

<https://www.toli.us/satellite-program/mississippi/>

Facilitated by:

Dolyene Davis, a TOLI leader and retired Mississippi educator with over 30 years experience at secondary and university levels

Tracei Willis, a Mississippi high school Language Arts teacher, Holocaust educator, and TOLI International Scholar