Defying the Single Story: Resistance, Holocaust, and Human Rights in the Classroom

Summer Seminar for Middle, High School, and College Educators

COVID-19 Notice: All in-person events will follow the most current local COVID guidelines including rescheduling if dictated by state/county regulations.

Charlotte, North Carolina

July 12 – 16, 2021

An Interdisciplinary Inquiry on Teaching the Holocaust

Supporting the work of teachers in Holocaust, Social Justice, and Human Rights education.

Join us this summer as we inquire into new ways to address Holocaust Studies, collaborate on effective teaching methods, and take time to enjoy each other's company.

"I tell my story so that students might tell the next generation."

– Sara Atzmon, Holocaust survivor

Seminar Highlights

Each day includes sessions that introduce new perspectives on our theme. We will learn, collaborate, write, and reflect. Most importantly, you will experience concrete ways to bring your learning back to your students. This summer includes:

- Trip to the Catawba Indian Nation Reservation in Rock Hill, SC
- Visit to the Levine Museum of the New South
- Full day experience at Temple Beth El at Shalom Park
- Exploration of the history of the Civil Rights Movement in Charlotte
- Viewing of the movie Who Will Write Our History

This seminar is offered FREE to participants through the generous support of our partners and offers participants:

- 3 Professional Development CEU credits
- Meals provided for in person sessions
- A per diem stipend towards housing for out-of-town participants
- Free educational resources presented in seminar sessions

Please note: A valid credit card is required for a good faith deposit of $100. Your credit card will only be charged if you cancel less than 2 weeks before the seminar begins or withdraw without notice.

Experienced facilitators Donna Tarney (Stan Greenspon Center) and Tonya Wertz-Orbaugh (University of North Carolina at Charlotte) lead the seminar.
