Social Justice Lessons in the Heartland: Exploring the Holocaust and Human Rights

An Interdisciplinary Inquiry on Teaching the Holocaust

COVID-19 Notice: All in-person events will follow the most current local COVID guidelines including rescheduling if dictated by state/county regulations.

Tulsa, Oklahoma

June 21 – 25, 2021

John Hope Franklin Reconciliation Tower

Each day of the Oklahoma Summer Seminar will introduce new perspectives on our theme. As we collaborate, write, and reflect, educators will experience concrete ways to bring their learning back to their students. This is an inquiry-driven seminar for educators of all levels interested in deepening their understanding of the Holocaust. Seminar highlights include:

- Exploration of 1921 Tulsa Race Massacre and strategies to teach Oklahoma history through social justice
- Testimonies from Holocaust Survivors, advice from experienced Holocaust educators and other guest speakers
- Visits to local resources, including the Sherwin Miller Museum of Jewish Art, the Greenwood Cultural Center, and the John Hope Franklin Reconciliation Park

This seminar is offered FREE to educators thanks to the generous support of TOLI and our partners. Participants receive:

- Free books and teaching materials
- Most breakfasts, lunches, and some dinners
- OSU Writing Project offers 60 professional development hours
- Oklahoma State University graduate credit and scholarships also available

Please note: A valid credit card is required for a good faith deposit of $100. Your credit card will only be charged if you cancel less than 2 weeks before the seminar begins or withdraw without notice.

The seminar is facilitated by Shanendra Nowell, Associate Professor of Secondary Social Studies Education at Oklahoma State University, and Sherry Been, Associate Professor of Elementary Education at Northeastern State University.

Please contact Shanendra Nowell at shanendra.nowell@okstate.edu with questions.
