

The Olga Lengyel Institute for Holocaust Studies and Human Rights

Defying the "Single Story": Teaching about the Holocaust, Human Rights, and Resistance

Summer Seminar for Middle School, High School, and College Educators

Charlotte, North Carolina

July 12 – 18, 2020

An Interdisciplinary Inquiry on Teaching the Holocaust

Supporting the work of teachers in Holocaust, social justice, and human rights education.

Join us this summer as work collaboratively and creatively to explore new approaches to Holocaust studies and consider effective teaching methods.

"I tell my story so that they might tell the next generation"

– Sara Atzmon, Holocaust survivor

The seminar is led by experienced facilitators
Donna Tarney, Education Coordinator,
The Stan Greenspon Center, and Tonya Wertz-Orbaugh, Senior Lecturer,
The University of North Carolina at Charlotte

Seminar Highlights

Taking inspiration from Chimamanda Adichie's TED Talk, we will focus on underrepresented lessons from the Holocaust including Jewish resistance. We will learn, collaborate, write, and reflect. Most importantly, you will experience concrete ways to bring your learning back to your students. This summer includes:

- Day Trip to the Catawba Indian Nation Reservation in Rock Hill, SC
- Visit to the Levine Museum of the New South
- Full day experience at Temple Beth El at Shalom Park
- Exploration of the history of the Rosenwald Schools in NC
- Viewing of the film Who Will Write Our History

This seminar is offered FREE to participants through the generous support of our partners and offers:

- 3 Professional Development CEU credits
- Most meals
- Discounted single or double occupancy accommodations at Queens University for out-of-town participants
- Free educational resources presented in seminar sessions

Register Here!

https://www.toli.us/satellite-program/charlotte-nc/