

The Olga Lengyel Institute for Holocaust Studies and Human Rights

Defying the Single Story: Resistance, Holocaust, and Human Rights in the Classroom

Summer Seminar for Middle School, High School, and College Educators

Charlotte, North Carolina

July 24-29, 2022

An Interdisciplinary Inquiry on Teaching the Holocaust

Join us this summer as we explore new ways to address Holocaust and genocide studies, human rights education and contemporary social justice issues facing students. This inquiry-based seminar encourages educators to collaborate on effective teaching methods, incorporating themes of human resiliency and social action in their classrooms, and to develop strategies for engaging students in the study of the Holocaust and human rights.

Highlights of the North Carolina TOLI seminar include:

- Presentation on Women Resisters by Yad Vashem scholars
- Visit to the Native American Studies Center
- Exploration of the history of the Civil Rights Movement in Charlotte
- Full day experience at Temple Beth El at Shalom Park
- Viewing of the movie Who Will Write Our History

“I tell my story so that they might tell the next generation”

– Sara Atzmon, Holocaust
survivor

Seminar Facilitators:

Donna Tamey is the Education Coordinator at The Stan Greenspon Center in Charlotte, North Carolina. She previously taught history, Government and Holocaust studies at Charlotte Catholic High School for 14 years.

Alexander (Sandy) Pope is an Associate Professor of social studies education at Salisbury University and leader in civic engagement. He has taught about the Holocaust and human rights at the elementary, secondary, and college levels, and completed fellowships at the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum and The Olga Lengyel Institute.

This seminar is offered FREE to participants through the generous support of our partners and offers participants:

- 3 Professional Development CEU credits
- Meals provided for in person sessions
- A per diem stipend towards housing for out-of-town participants
- Free resources provided plus a stipend to buy additional items for your classroom

Register Today!

www.toli.us/satellite-program/charlotte-nc/

COVID-19 NOTICE: All in-person events will follow the most current local COVID guidelines, including rescheduling if dictated by state/county regulations.

